Mayor Meets Government Officials

Mayor Hank Shimbashi was busy last week meeting officials of the Provincial Government and keeping Drayton Valley area well represented on the Alberta scene.

Mr. Ralph Jespersen, M.L.A. for Stony Plain Constituency, was a town visitor on Thursday and spent the best part of two hours discussing the town and area situation with Dr. Shimbashi.

Later the same day Dr. Shimbashi visited Hon. Harry Strom, Minister of Municipal Affairs, and reviewed the town's position in regard to the annexation of L.I.D. 77 by Stony Plain County. Dr. Shimbashi said that Mr. Strom agreed that the bid to save L.I.D. 77 from annexation came too late but that the picture might have been changed if a request for municipal status had come from the area a year or two earlier.

Mr. Strom said the government is watching development in the area and expects that improvement of school facilities will be an early undertaking.

Mr. Strom is one of the candidates seeking the premiership of the province.

Throughout the years there have been several changes in the Ink Spots personnel, since the original Hoppy Jones died. They have become more progressive by adding spirituals, jazz and popular songs to their repertoire.

Presidential Race

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- With the U.S. presidential campaign in its last days, national polling agencies are at sixes and sevens in deciding the winner. The "Faceless" Children

In today's world millions of children are ill-fed, poorly clothed and unschooled. We have seen them: They are the "Faceless" Children.

Canadians as world citizens are increasingly aware that knowledge and understanding, tolerance and compassion, are the keys to the future. UNICEF (United Nations Children's Fund) is one of these keys. Established under United Nations, it is an international effort to give every child freedom from disease and hunger, an education and opportunity to earn a living.

UNICEF, participated in by 120 countries with 477 projects, is a co-operative effort to improve the lot of the world's children. Interested governments must first request UNICEF assistance. For each UNICEF dollar from the UNICEF Fund these governments provide the equivalent of $2.50 on approved projects. This assistance is given on the basis of need regardless of political beliefs, race or creed.

At Hallowe'en time gaily dressed youngsters will come knocking at your door. For them you will have the traditional treats. But Canadian youngsters will feel happier if you place in their UNICEF collection boxes money for their "Faceless" Friends.

WEEKLY VIEWPOINT

A series of brief meditations for the readers of The Western Review prepared by the clergy of the Drayton Valley Ministerial Association

Creeping Secularism

By Rev. G. E. Ingram

Someone will certainly say, "Creeping Socialism, I know; but what is 'creeping secularism'?" Let us begin by defining "secularism", then we may note its progress and the significance of same. Secularism is an attitude for which "this world" is the only reality of which one needs seriously to take account. It is obviously closely connected with scientific humanism, rationalism, and naturalism, which are all views which hold man rather than God to be the real and supreme value.

Dr. V. A. Demant, in his book Religion and the Decline of Capitalism, says: "The ancient paganism, the Bible and the Christian Church all have this in common, that they hold the source of all things to be a divine reality which transcends the world as well as operating in it. The secularisms of today have this in common, that they hold the meaning of the world to lie within itself."

God is evicted from His own world by these philosophies. But over against these, the Psalmist's declaration stands in its indelible truth: "The earth is the Lord's and the fulness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein." (Psalm 24:1). The Psalmist, here, certainly believes in the reality and importance of the secular, although he is no secularist. A man may believe that "this world" is real and valuable without believing that it is the only reality or that its reality and value are supreme and ultimate.

The world in which we live today is dominated by the achievements and outlook of science and, it goes without saying, that science is entirely concerned with the secular. The gigantic successes of science have produced the attitude of secularism in the great mass of civilized people. Yet, curiously, scientists as a group are affected rather less than others by secularism. The really hard-boiled secularists are to be found today far more among philosophers and historians; but most of all among the generality of educated people who have been conditioned by the success of science to accept the world simply as fodder for human enjoyment and exploitation, and nothing more. Our schools are the most efficient perhaps, of all agencies in producing secularists. That this attitude is advancing in our world today is surely self-evident.

The following was written not long ago in a "Letters to the editor" column of a prominent Christian journal: "Communism as a social phenomenon, is not peculiar to the East. The difference between East and West happens to be the whereas the former are frank believers in the 'gospel of materialism' we, in the West, divide life artificially into 'sacred' and 'secular', 'private' and 'public', man and God oriented spheres of existence and authority. As though this were possible! In this we are less honest than the 'whole-hoggers'. The only people we deceive by this dichotomy are ourselves."

Jesus Christ, in whom we are told: "dwelleth all the fulness of the Godhead bodily", who came into this world, enjoyed it and witnessed to its being the handiwork of His Heavenly Father, also taught that mankind is not to absorb the world's spirit and atmosphere. His followers are not to make an idol of the world or man; and they must resist vehemently every subtle suggestion so to do which man-made philosophies and science -- falsely so called -- propose.

Marge Pollard would like to thank the Ramona Community League for the lovely flowers she received when she was in the pital. She said she was very pleased to get the flowers and she got many comments on what lovely flowers they were and on the arrangement of the bouquet, Marge just got out of the hospital and her mother came out from Edmonton to visit her and now she is in hospital. We hope your stay in the hospital is short Mrs. Buzak.

The Ramona Community League held a hallowe'en party for the children in the district who were 10 and under, about 35 children attended and all seemed to enjoy the afternoon. There were so many good costumes it was hard to decide who should get the prizes, but with a limited number of prizes we just had to do our best to give them to the goblins we thought were best dressed. A special thanks to Phyllis Kelly for the time and effort she put into the day to make it such a huge success. The Kelly family decorated the hall too.

Brent Pickett is spending the week with Kenny Mulyk, while his folks are away. Brent is really enjoying his week at the farm.

... the assistant to Alberta's practicing veterinarians?

The ultra-thin slices which Laboratory Technician Mrs. Vikki Wong is cutting from a block of wax contain micro-sections of a tumour which an Alberta veterinarian has removed from a dog or cat. A complicated process of treatment and study will reveal to the experts at the Veterinary Diagnostic Laboratory in Lethbridge the possibilities of malignancy or recurrence. This information will be forwarded to the practitioner responsible for the family pet. Operated under the Veterinary Services Division of the Alberta Department of Agriculture, the laboratory maintains a "back-up" service for Alberta veterinarians, providing complete facilities and opportunity for diagnosis and treatment by provincial experts. Suspicion of cancer, poison and anaemia in household pets is daily confirmed or denied by the laboratory which also provides a complete diagnostic service for veterinarians treating farm livestock.

He stops accidents before they even have a chance of getting started. As an inspector with the Boilers and Pressure Vessels Branch of the Alberta Department of Labour, Dave Thompson is one link in a chain of control to ensure that all boilers and pressure vessels built in the province conform to rigid safety codes. He and his fellow inspectors keep a careful eye on all phases of fabrication, from the original plans to the final operation. Plans are scrutinized for adherence to the applicable code, materials and methods of construction must meet approved specifications and personnel must be properly qualified in their trades. Installed and completed units, along with their attendant piping, fittings and attachments are subjected to periodic checks by the 30 inspectors located throughout the province. From design to operation, safety standards are established and maintained by the Boilers and Pressure Vessels Branch.

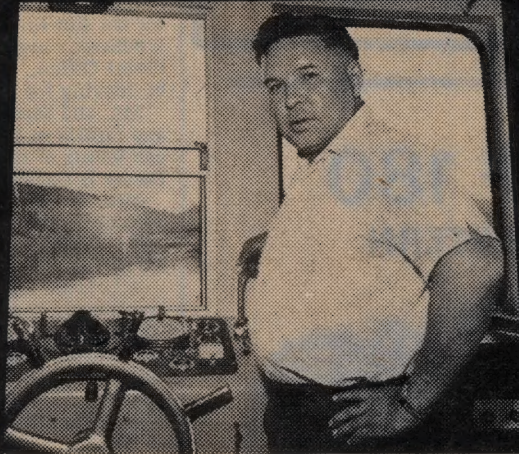

have you ever met...

... a man who lays in a supply of firewood for summer?

..... a pine cone baker?

Daily, Patrick Wotherspoon bakes thousands of pine and spruce cones in a 130 degree oven to force them to open up and release the tiny seeds trapped inside. Shipped to the Alberta Department of Agriculture Tree Nursery from all parts of the province, these seeds are the basis of Alberta's reforestation program. A percentage of them is stored until needed for actual seeding operations in forest regions. The remainder is used as a source for seedlings which are grown at the nursery, then shipped out for planting in logged-over areas. The services of the Tree Nursery are utilized mainly by the Alberta Forest Service but they are also available on agreement at a fee to private companies engaged in the forest industry.

... a deep-sea captain who never sees the ocean?

Although the 46-foot steel-hulled MV Athabasca sails the northern lakes and rivers of Alberta it is licensed for service on deep-sea, coastal and inland waters. Consequently, its commanding officer, Captain John R. Waniandy must hold master's papers for all three categories.

The Athabasca is one of two larger sized vessels owned by the Department of Lands and Forests and used in northern waters to transport personnel, equipment and supplies. In an area where roads just don't exist these boats have proved invaluable as a means of sustaining the numerous forestry stations, lookout posts and construction camps. But they not only service the far flung Forestry establishments. They have, on more than one occasion, been called on to help in emergencies caused by natural disasters.

Both boats were constructed in their Edmonton shops by Lands and Forests personnel, the same people who build the fibreglass cupolas seen perched atop lookout towers throughout Alberta's forests.

... a teacher who never goes to school?

Wilma Sutherland is a fully-qualified teacher who has no school and whose classrooms are scattered throughout some of the province's most inaccessible areas. She is the travelling teacher with the Correspondence School Branch of the Alberta Department of Education and her pupils are the many adults and children taking their education by "mail-order" lesson. Each year Miss Sutherland visits more than 200 pupils who live in isolated areas, are physically handicapped, confined to some sort of institution or otherwise unable to attend a regular school. She not only assists them with their lessons and helps plan future courses but is invaluable as a morale builder as well. Miss Sutherland's assistance is a part of the service of the Correspondence School Branch which allows any Albertan to obtain by mail the credit required for any level of education from grade one to High School Diploma on the same basis as students at a regular school.

Summer is the time when firewood is needed most ... in the 240 campsites located along Alberta's highways. Oscar Sommerfeld is one of the men employed by the Maintenance Branch, Alberta Department of Highways, to see that each site has its full quota of cut wood. In addition, Oscar and other members of the maintenance crews are responsible for the upkeep of the facilities provided in each highway campsite. Scattered along roads throughout the province, from main highways to forestry roads, most sites are equipped with not only cut firewood but also fireplaces, picnic tables, tenting and trailer space, water, shelters, and sanitary facilities. All this is provided free to the traveller who enjoys the convenience of a comfortable site in which to spend the night, thanks to the men of the Maintenance Branch.

Judging by the requests for sewing courses, many of you are busy at your sewing machines.

Just a word about fabrics. There is still some confusion and dismay about bonded fabrics.

At a recent fabrics and textile convention in Winnipeg, home economists, designers, manufacturers and dry cleaners met together to discuss problems in the clothing industry.

Bonded fabrics received some attention. As you may know, many consumers have washed garments and had the lining and outer fabric separate. The same thing happened in drycleaning. Sometimes this didn't take place until the second cleaning, but it did take place. Several ladies have reported that garments shrank in drycleaning. Drycleaners in many cases refused to handle bonded.

This year we were given to believe they are much improved. The consensus of opinion at the textile convention was that they are far from satisfactory. After five years of trial, they were prepared to forget about bonded.

My own feeling is that the bonded fabric never has a good drape as unbonded. The garment tends to look stiff and unnatural.

Bingo to be held October 30th.

OCTOBER 30, 1968

EVANSBURG NEWS

MRS. M. BRUNER
Correspondent

Grey skies and damp weather are still delaying farmers in the area in their harvesting efforts. However, other fall work seems to be proceeding at the usual rate.

Mr. and Mrs. Keast and their family have finished moving into their home.

The Hollysprings Community League held a meeting last week to discuss several matters pertaining to the activities of the community.

A fair turnout of parents were seen at the Evansburg school on Cub and Scout registration night. The parents came to register their boys and stayed to see slides shown of the Alberta Scout jamboree which took place at Sylvan Lake in the summer of 1967. Since some of the local boys had attended this jamboree and could be seen in the slides, more interest was taken by the younger boys. The slides had been taken by Mr. L. Clark of Sanguo and were shown by him. After coffee and cookies were served. Now that the boys are registered, both Cub pack and Scout troop can really begin on their year's projects.

The death in Edmonton recently of Mrs. Nils Buchanan was noted by some of our older residents. Mrs. Buchanan was the former Miss Helen DeSilva and taught here in the late nineteen twenties.

Mr. Willis Morgan passed away recently when fire destroyed his dwelling in the Reno district.

Students from the Junior-Senior High School recently were going around looking for sponsors for the marathon dance which is being held in the school auditorium to raise funds for the Centennial Arena.

Check License Before Selling

Before selling your cattle this fall be sure to ask to see the dealer's license, advises Alberta's Regulating Services Supervisor Harry Link. Mr. Link explains that the heavy movement of cattle at this time of year is likely to attract a certain percentage of unscrupulous dealers.

The Alberta Livestock and Livestock Products Act and Regulations require all livestock dealers in this province to carry a current dealer's license and to be bonded. The bond provides the farmer or rancher selling cattle with protection against a default in payment.

In addition to cattle producers Mr. Link warns market operators to be on their guard when dealing with non-resident livestock buyers. Unless the buyer is licensed in this province there is no pro-

SUMMARY: Offerings were slightly lower this past week consisting of approximately 50% stock calves. Better quality butcher steers and heifers were generally in short supply throughout the week. Trading was active with all classes of replacement cattle changing hands on a firmer basis. Butcher classes sold unevenly under a spotty demand and limited supply. Choice steers were barely steady as buyers were more selective with only a few sales to 26.50. A fair offering of choice butcher heifers sold steady at a practical top of 25 with the odd sale to 25.50 for high yielding kinds. Good butcher cows were in fair demand selling at steady prices throughout. Medium and canner quality experienced some pressure to 50 lower at mid-week but regained the loss in closing trade. Bulls were steady with a few sales to 21. Veal calves continued to be scarce at steady prices. Butcher calves sold on a firmer basis with sales to 23.75 as the week closed. Replacement steers and heifers were fully steady to firm for good quality kinds. One load of good 750 lb. stock heifers sold at 23.50. Stock steer and heifer calves traded at firmer prices. There were sales to 31.90 for stock steer calves and to 24 for stock heifer calves during the week. Avoid Scattering Weed Seeds

Did you know that it is illegal in Alberta to take farm machinery on to a highway without first removing all noxious weed seeds and that it is illegal to scatter weed infested grain along roadsides from an open truck-box?

W. Lobay, head of weed control and municipal programs with the provincial government, reports that a number of municipalities have now passed special by-laws to prevent the scattering of weed seeds, screenings and grain containing weed seeds along roadsides by regulating the transportation of grain.

Sheer carelessness is often responsible for starting serious weed infestations in clean areas, says Mr. Lobay. The movement of weed seed infested machinery and the scattering of grain and screenings along roadsides and highways are typical examples.

The Alberta Department of Agriculture and agricultural service boards are again asking for the co-operation of all farmers and others connected with grain handling in preventing the indiscriminate scattering of weed seeds in this province.

Mr. Carter has been busy getting his basement ready to pour cement before he moves a house he bought near Gainford down here. He had a new well drilled which provided lots of water.

Stewart and Irene Vanderwell have moved with their two little boys into the former Dumouchell house.

A.G.T. seem to be having their troubles with the new phone system through this area with people hearing the wrong voices or at times their phones are dead. One day a tree fell across the toll lines to Edmonton and broke the wires.

Laura Bacon went to the hospital last week for minor surgery. It has been reported that Mrs. Wright a former resident of Keephills is still a patient at the Castor hospital.

Viola and Ken Porter received a phone call from Iowa, U.S.A. on their anniversary last week. The caller was a pen pal of Viola's since they were teen age girls.

'COACH'S CORNER'

The FMHS Spartans have come to the end of their first season in the North-East Central Football league and it proved an education for the local boys. This year's tough experience is going to prove vital in the building of this potentially great team.

In the team's final game against the Lutheran College there were for the first time some very wholesome signs of the teams beginnings to maturity. Terry Jevne playing quarterback for the first time certainly showed that he is very capable and will give the Spartans a potent offense next season. John Teeter and Larry Mattoon will be excellent offensive ends. Stan Oulton, Dan Bouschard and Bruce Gossel efficient ground gainers from their fullback positions. Don Whelan a better than average halfback along with Rick Gabrielson. Ron Wilson will give the club top centering. Ron Astle and Ian Tucker will anchor the front wall along with Rick Hopfe and Bob Pattison.

Defensively Ken Fink, already of all star rating, will provide its drive. Doug Ibbotson moving into the defensive secondary will close off the gap on the long ball threat.

Also the team possesses fine talents, Norm Tucker, Dave Getzinger, Dale Johnson and Larry Fink. Some of the fine bantam talent will be moving in to the squad and the Warburg community will provide four or five fine athletes to round off the squad. One Ed Cunningham showed against the Lutheran that he will be a real find backup quarterback with his outstanding passing ability. Some others will give the defensive the badly needed defensive beef.

The team has had a year with their fairly complex offensive play book and will feel more comfortable and confident with it. The team will also be favored by numerous home games next season.

The most vital lesson of the season for the boys was that certain living habits do not make a winner on the field or will it in the business world. With this realization some of the boys have learned what the game has meant to teach them; for these this past season has been vital and a success. May they learn that sacrifice and self discipline will make them a winner next season and may we their parents and teachers take a greater interest so that we can aid them in graduating from this a part of their high school experience better prepared to meet the challenging and complex society.

$2500
with
Canada Savings Bonds

$250 for each $100. That's what you can get with this year's Canada Savings Bonds. Here's how.

The new Bonds have fourteen regular annual interest coupons which can be cashed each year as they come due. The first pays 5.75%; the second, 6.50%; the next three, 6.75% each, and the last nine a big 7.00% each. Total regular annual interest amounts to $95.50 on each $100 Bond.

If you choose you may hold all these regular annual interest coupons uncashed until your Bond matures. If you do, you will then get interest on your interest totalling an additional $54.50 on each $100 Bond.

At maturity, therefore, you can get back total interest of $150 plus your original $100 investment. This way each $100 Canada Savings Bond becomes worth $250. Other denominations can grow at the same exciting rate.

Adults, children, businesses and institutions—all may buy Canada Savings Bonds. They are available in convenient amounts of $50 up to $50,000 for cash or on instalments, wherever you work, bank or invest. And, as always, Canada Savings Bonds are cashable any time at full face value plus earned interest.

Few investments are so profitable. None builds more surely for the future. Buy Canada Savings Bonds and make your savings really grow.

Crops Respond Well To Fall Fertilizing

Research work carried out to date in Alberta indicates that crops in many areas of the province respond just as well to fall fertilizer applications as they do to spring applications.

A. W. Goettel, head of the Soils Branch of the provincial Plant Industry Division, points out that nitrogen is the predominant plant nutrient that can be applied at seeding time.

Mr. Goettel reports that in some instances tests have shown that fall fertilizer applications were somewhat better than spring applications on land which received little moisture the following spring. However, fall fertilizing is not recommended for the dark brown, brown and thin black soils where the yearly amount of moisture is usually more limited than it was in other areas, nor for the areas where the soil is coarse (sandy) or where there are steep slopes. Losses through leaching and water run off are uncommon in this province.

Mr. Goettel says the best time to apply fall fertilizers is between October 1st and freeze-up. In the case of stubble land, he advises applying the fertilizer before the last fall cultivation. Many farms in Alberta have broadcasting equipment mounted on cultivators and chisel plows for doing this job. On hay and pasture land, fertilizer should be broadcast as close to freeze-up as possible and can even be done after the soil surface is frozen.

Mr. Goettel also points out that fertilizer companies usually give substantial discounts on their fall deliveries. Storage costs are eliminated and savings of from $2 to $4 a ton, and even up to $5 a ton on bulk orders, can be realized by the farmer.

Plan to Hold Sewing Course

On Wednesday, November 13th at 1:00 p.m. there will be a pre-sewing meeting held in the Anglican Parish Hall. The purpose of this meeting is to meet with Mrs. Jubenvill, the home economist from Stony Plain so that she can make the preliminary arrangements to hold a three day sewing clinic in Drayton Valley.

Any ladies who would be interested in taking this course are invited to attend the pre-sewing meeting. For further information call Peggy Tyler at 542-3487 or Ann MacKenzie at 542-3489.
